FOREWORD

Drury College has gone to war; with its going have come drastic, sweeping changes to Drury's forty acres.

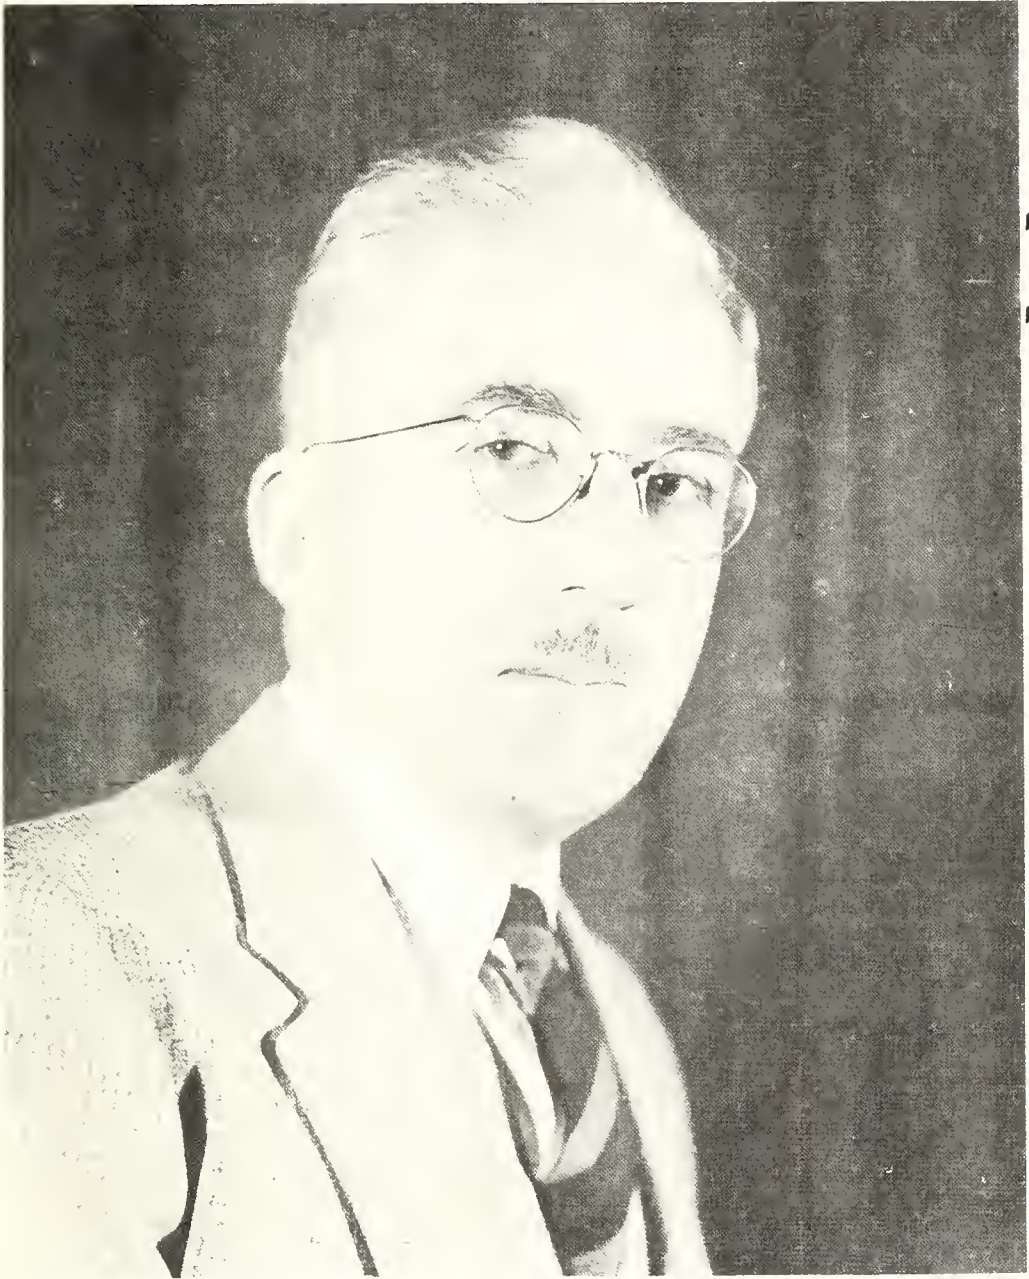

On every hand may be seen evidence of this change, evidence of Drury's girding for battle. It is apparent that under conditions such as these there can be no "business as usual".

So it is that even her yearbook, this Sou'wester of 1943, appears in wartime form.

We present the Sou'wester of 1943—Victory Edition.

DEDICATION:

IN MEMORIAM

This book is dedicated to Dr. James Elias Cribbs, who, kind and wise, illuminated the Science of Life with humor and magic.

SKIFF

Skiff is an honorary organization for senior women. Membership is based upon scholarship, character, and leadership. Candidates must have maintained an average of three point or above throughout their college years, and they must participate in a number of extra-curricular activities. They are admitted to Skiff during the second semester of their junior year.

Skiff was founded in 1915, and since that time its members have directed the Drury Founder's Day program, at which time invitations are issued to new nominees for Skiff, and the new members are announced.

In addition to the Founder's Day program, Skiff girls have charge of all arrangements for Mother's Day, which is celebrated annually at Drury early in May. A chapel service and a banquet at Drury Commons are planned to honor the mothers, along with various other activities.

This year's Skiff members are Jane Hughes, Donnelia Thompson, Nancy Crane, Mary Lavina Smith, Doris Smith, Margaret Neal, and Jean Hall.

SEVEN SAGES

The Seven Sages since its founding has been strictly an honorary scholastic organization and a means by which Drury men can receive an honor which they well deserve. The Sages sponsor no extra-curricular activities; nor do they unnecessarily display their scholastic superiority. A banquet is held at least once a year and marks the only social function of the group. Prof. L. E. Meador, co-founder of the organization in 1917, is acting sponsor of the honorary society. Membership is based on the cumulative point average of every man in Drury and there are three divisions: The Sages, the Scholars, and the Novices.

STUDENT SENATE

The Student Senate aims to secure the highest degree of co-operation among the various organizations on the campus, and to maintain a good understanding and cordial relations between students and faculty.

The Senate is composed of the president and vice president of the student body, as well as representatives from each of the fraternities, sororities, and independents, and the presidents of the four classes. There is also a senate representative from the faculty.

It is the duty of the Senate to appoint all the committees which have to do with student life, such as social committee, assembly committee, student life committee, etc.

In normal times the Senate sponsors Homecoming, Work-play day, and Sneak day. This year the first two activities were given up.

SAM DICKEY, President
JANE HUGHES, Vice President
MARY LAVINA SMITH, Secretary
TED GINSBURG, Parliamentarian

SOCIAL COMMITTEE

The all-school Social Committee, financed by the student activity fee, is responsible for most of the social life on our campus. The aim of this year's committee was to bring to Drury bigger and better social functions. The committee has done away with the old time nickleodeon dances and has attempted to bring planned programs into their parties.

This year's committee has presented the well known Freshman Mixer, a Hallowe'en Masquerade, Drury's annual Christmas Dance, along with open houses at Wallace, McCullough Jr., and Fairbanks. The second semester has seen a successful Valentine Dance and St. Patrick's Day Dance.

The Social Committee is appointed by the Student Body President with the help of the Student Senate.

DRURY LANE TROUPERS

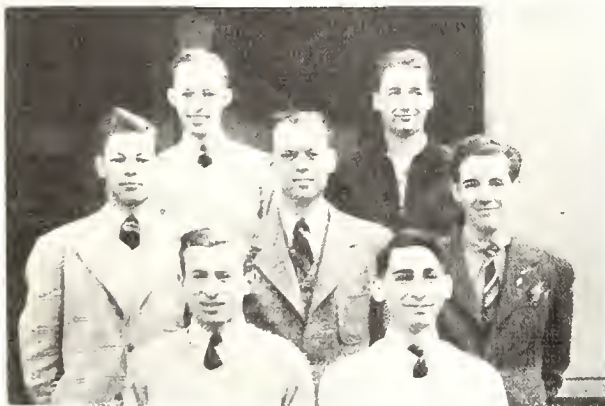

Drury Lane Troupers, dramatic society, was founded in the fall of 1935. It has continued to grow steadily since that time. This year Troupers reached its height with eighty-five members in the organization. Troupers were designated as Troupees, and have furthered the cause of dramatics on the campus along with the Troupers. Troupers give the students not only an opportunity to develop dramatic talent, but to secure valuable experience in the whole production of a play. The purpose of Troupers is to promote dramatic art on the campus. Drury Lane Troupers strive to exemplify the best principles of dramatic technique in actual production.

The organization this year took on the added responsibility of producing weekly dramatic shows for the patients at O'Reilly General Hospital. They also assisted with the production of "Stars At Night," an all student production. Troupers presented "Eve of Saint Mark," an assembly program, and several one act plays.

Officers this year were: Dorothy English, president; Betty Burton, vice president, Hope Elsie Harris, secretary; Sarah Arpe, treasurer.

FORENSICS

Extra-curricular activities in every college program have been modified because of the present world crisis, and in Drury, forensic work is no exception. Many of the team's trips were curtailed and those sponsored activities which have gained Drury the reputation as an "Arsenal of Public Speaking" were forced to be postponed.

However, the prowess of the platform still reigned at Drury as her teams, less active than in previous years, nevertheless upheld the Drury tradition of forensic superiority. The teams participated in three major tournaments during the year and the following boys took part: Henry Duncan, Charles Grosskreutz, Rolland Cox, William Harding, Norris Fellows, Ted Ginsburg, William Watson, George Donegan, and Albert Lataner. Of these participants, Duncan, Donegan, and Harding were lost to the armed services immediately after the Oklahoma tournament.

The major tournaments in which the teams participated were the Pittsburg Teachers College Tournament at Pittsburg, Kansas, the Oklahoma Teachers College Tournament held at Ada, Oklahoma, and the Missouri State Tournament held at Westminster College at Fulton, Missouri.

Results: Pittsburg—merely a practice tournament in which four teams from Drury participated. Oklahoma—the senior debate team, composed of Duncan and Grosskreutz, emerged with a rating of excellent. The junior debate team, composed of Harding and Fellows, won second place and received a wooden plaque for their victory. Duncan represented Drury in extemporaneous speaking and radio speaking, winning first in the former and second in radio. State Meet—Cox and Grosskreutz entered the senior division and ended with a record of three losses to one victory. William Watson, freshman, won third in extemporaneous speaking and placed fourth in oratory. This was his first participation in college forensics.

CLARINET QUARTETTE and WOOD WIND ENSEMBLE

Bill Macdonnell, Rosemary Sullivan, Maxine Woodard, and Mary Elizabeth McNutt are in the clarinet quartette. The woodwind ensemble is composed of Nancy Hasler, flute, Maxine Woodard, clarinet, Beth Rehorn, oboe, and Mary Frances James of Senior High School, bassoon.

Miles K. Marcell, head of the woodwind department, coaches these ensembles.

The Clarinet Quartette and Woodwind Ensemble appeared this year before the student body in assembly, at vesper services, at the Sorosis Club, at the Washington Avenue church, over the radio, at the music clinic, at O'Reilly, and various other places.

STRING QUARTETTE

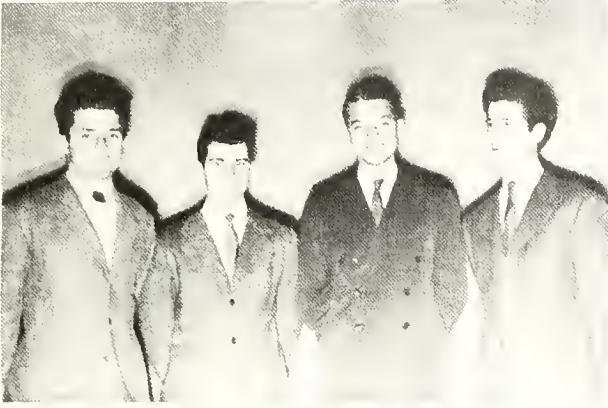

The Drury String Quartette, under the guidance of John D. Kendall, has concluded an eventful year. Besides playing for various town organizations, performing at Wallace Hall and in the chapel services, they have sustained a Sunday afternoon radio program over station KTTS.

The quartette has also done ensemble work with other instrumentalists.

MALE QUARTETTE

Tenors Quentin Galloway and Kermit Fales, baritone Maurice Clopton, and Robert McGuire, base, compose the men's quartette at Drury this year. They have sung at O'Reilly General Hospital, various civic clubs and churches, and formed the nucleus of the Drury radio program.

SIGMA ALPHA IOTA

Sigma Alpha Iota was founded at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan, June 12, 1903. It is the oldest and largest honorary society of its kind.

Iota Mu Chapter was placed on our campus April 28 of last year, replacing the local music society, Alpha Mu Omega.

Sigma Alpha Iota accepts only those women on the campus who are superior music students and are capable of meeting the high scholastic requirements of the organization.

A CAPPELLA

The Drury A Cappella choir under the direction of John H. Bloom is composed of about sixty-five musically inclined students. These students meet three times a week to work on a concert, the operetta, or on the choir music for the regular Tuesday chapel services.

This group presented two successful concerts and on March 25 and 26 they presented in collaboration with the Drury Lane Troupers the comic opera "Patience," by Gilbert and Sullivan.

Of special interest was the concert presented February 10, "Songs of Democracy". Highlight of the program was the "Ballad for Americans", by John Latouche and Earl Robinson. The solo was sung by Maurice Clopton, Drury freshman from Aurora, Missouri.

Under the leadership of A. A. Rockwell, new instructor at Drury this year, the band has increased in size. For the first time, Drury has a "marching band", and new uniforms have been secured for its personnel.

Mr. Rockwell's concert band made its debut at Clara Thompson Hall in December, with a presentation of the director's original music.

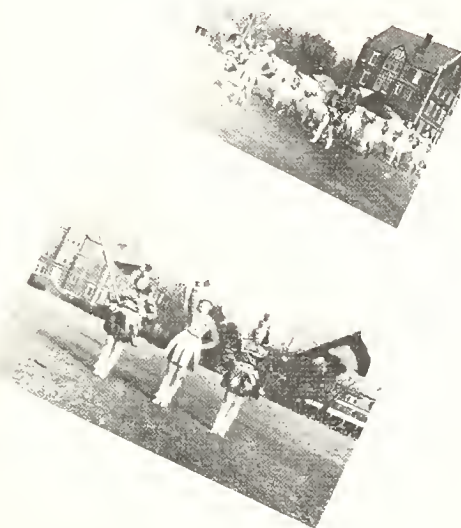

DRURY BAND

A colorful group just organized this year is the flag waving corps. It was brought into being by A. A. Rockwell, who is also band instructor, and even in its elementary stage has gained recognition for its graceful rythmical movement.

Led by the Walters sisters as a twirling team, the scarlet and gray clad girls have brightened many college activities this year. The flags are alternately gray background with a large red "D" and vice versa. The costumes consist of white skirts with red and gray blouses.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

The International Relations Club is an organization whose purpose is to promote constructive, broadminded and liberal thinking on problems of national and international importance.

The national organization was founded by Nicholas Murray Butler and is endowed by the Carnegie Foundation for International Peace, which sends the club a number of noted books of international importance each semester.

"The purpose of the Carnegie Endowment in undertaking this work of the International Relations Clubs is to instruct and to enlighten public opinion. It is not to support exclusively any one view as to how best to treat the conditions which now prevail throughout the world, but to fix the attention of students on those underlying principles of international conduct, of international law and of international organization which must be agreed upon and put into action if a peaceful civilization is to continue."

DELTA THETA ALPHA

Delta Theta Alpha is a local pre-professional fraternity. It was established on the campus last year by a group of the ministerial students under the leadership of Dean Hoffman of the Bible department. The purpose was to fill the need for some means of getting together and sharing experiences with each other. The membership is open to any student on the campus who plans full time religious work as his vocation.

At the meetings everything is discussed from phases of modern theology to the technique of getting on the good side of the older ladies in the local church. Regular meetings are held once a month and after the discussion part of the program an informal social period usually follows. After the fashion of all Greek letter organizations, there is a formal initiation ritual which explains the symbolism of the fraternity.

The officers of Delta Theta Alpha took office last spring and will be replaced this spring. Ned Romine is the president, Joe Bob Moffett is chaplain, Henry Liebeck, secretary, and Maurice McDowell, the treasurer.

Some of the members are holding full-time churches and gaining experience in actually leading a church, others are helping local ministers in their churches and getting their experience in that way. But the organization brings all of these together and gives to all a beneficial period of fellowship.

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

The Baptist Student Union is the connecting link between the Baptist student and the church. The aim of the organization is to keep the college student in direct contact with the activities of the church. The local Baptist Student Union is composed of members of Baptist churches or of their unit organizations, such as Sunday School or Training Union.

An executive council of ten or more serves to unify and direct the work. In seventeen southern states there are well-established state Baptist Student Union organizations, each with a council, an annual convention, and a year-round program of variety and of service.

STUDENT CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

In 1940 the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. on the campus combined forming the Student Christian Association, better known as the S. C. A. It is an organization planned for service to the student, to the campus, and to the larger world community. Its aim is to help students gain a new appreciation and use of religious values, to encourage the constructive application of Christian principles to everyday life, and to further a world fellowship. The programs consist of discussions and forums on problems pertinent to the student and to society. The association conducts a vesper service in Stone Chapel each Sunday.

Virginia Nelle Kinloch, Doris Weiser, and George Crandall represented our S. C. A. at the State Convention this year.

In addition to the regular meetings of the S. C. A., there was an all school party, an S. C. A. assembly program, a breakfast for the cabinet, and a spring retreat.

W. A. A. is the Women's Athletic Association of Drury. This is a national organization, which is found on practically every campus on which there are women students. Usually there is held each year a regional and a national convention to discuss the different methods of providing more interest in sports. This year, however, because of the war no convention has been held.

Our W. A. A. was organized to further the interest in sports for women by offering intramural and individual competition. All women who participate in any sport outside of their regular gym class must be members.

All of the schedule for the various sports, including softball, volleyball, basketball, badminton, tennis, pingpong, and shuffleboard, is arranged by the W. A. A. board, which is composed of an appointed representative from each sorority and directors of the sports. The board is responsible for the tournament and other competitive events.

RED PEPPERS

Red Peppers—that's the expressive title given to the girls who give every bit of voice they have to help spur the team on to victory.

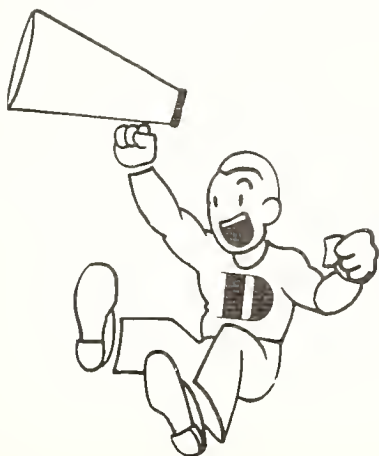

They're at every game—all fifty of them, and if the team loses the girls feel it as much as Coach Weiser.

They're behind Drury 100 percent; they participate in everything. If anything needs good solid backing—the Red Peppers are willing to give it. They gave their sponsorship to the "Stars at Night", Drury benefit musical, by selling tickets and urging Drury students and patrons to support it.

Social functions include two skirt skripts, which were given solely for the enjoyment of the students, and which were acclaimed as successful.

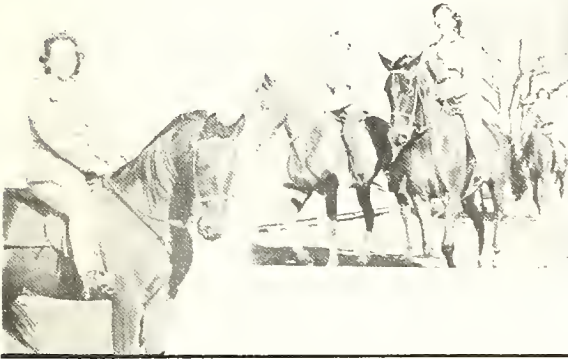

Pep leaders this year are Hank Liebeck and Kenny Dennis. They have worked out with the girls a number of new catchy yells which have helped to promote even more spirit among Druryites.

The Cavalry Unit of the Messengers was started by the equestrian class in 1941. Since the wartime emergency, the instruction has been changed from five-gaited to cross-country riding so that they could be of help if they were needed in the defense of their country.

The purpose of the organization is to efficiently do their part as messengers of the Civilian Defense Corps. They will carry messages as well as small packages during an emergency when other means of communication are disrupted, over-taxed, or unsuitable.

The activities consist of drilling every week and studying problems of Community, First Aid, Fire Defense, General Direction, and Gas Defense.

The Cavalry Unit of Civilian Defense has two authorized Bomb Reconnaissance agents at Drury.

RED CROSS

The purpose of the Drury Red Cross chapter is to enable everyone affiliated with the college to help in the war effort. Perhaps this is better expressed in the national purpose: 1. Furnish voluntary aid to sick and wounded in time of war. 2. For such purposes to perform all duties devolved upon a national society by each nation which has acceded to this treaty. 3. To act in matters of voluntary relief and in accord with military and naval authorities as a medium of communication between the people of the United States and their army and navy. 4. To continue to carry on a system of national and international relief in times of peace.

Work carried on this year by the Drury unit included courses in Staff Assistant's work, Standard First Aid, Advanced First Aid, Home Nursing, and Nutrition. Members of the organization have completed more than one hundred fifty knitted articles, as well as supplying headquarters with surgical dressings and soldier's comfort kits.

WALLACE HALL

Wallace Hall, home of sixty Drury women, is almost always a scene of activity. Aside from various all college activities which are held at Wallace Hall, there are many "get-togethers" in the hall for the dormitory girls alone. For instance there is Sweetheart Week, held each year the week preceding Valentine's day. At that time all the girls draw names, and give some small gift, or "do something" (such as polishing unrecognizable saddle shoes) each day during the week. It is not until Valentine's day itself that the anonymous sweetheart reveals her identity at a party held in the "rec" room.

Highlights of the year is always the Wallace Hall formal, and a great deal of time is spent in preparation for decorations, refreshments, etc. This year the formal was held February 6, and a Valentine theme was used.

Wallace Hall is a self-governing body—six girls are selected by the entire group each year to help the head-resident, Mrs. Haeg, and the dean of women, Miss Lichliter, with the enforcement of the rules. For this year these girls composed the House Council: Jane Hughes, president; Georgette O'Meara, vice president; Sarah Arpe, secretary; Beth Jones; Mary Lavina Smith; Lenora Jump.

E. T. C.

Five years ago thirteen Wallace girls were the charter members of W. E. This secret social organization is now known as the E. T. C.

E. T. C.'s outstanding social event of the year was its formal banquet at the Headley House before the Wallace Hall formal. Other activities included a fall picnic at Cherry Creek and a "Hick" party.

McCULLOUGH, Jr.

One of the first buildings on the campus to feel the nearness of war was McCullough Cottage. In September, when the girls who were to live at McCullough this year arrived on the campus, they found that the government had taken over the dorm to house the Civilian Pilot Trainees, and that they were to live in a large house directly across from Pearson's Hall, at 971 Benton. The new dormitory was soon dubbed "McCullough Junior".

The girls who live at the co-op cook their own meals and do most of the work at the house. They are learning the rudiments of housekeeping under the able supervision of Housemother Mrs. Smith, who is "tops" in the estimation of everyone who knows her.

Fairbanks Hall—better known as the "Barn"—is Drury's dormitory for men. Besides furnishing rooms for men students, the Barn has a spacious lounge, a recreation room, and two apartments for faculty members and their families.

The goal for which most Fairbanks men strive is membership in the B.B.B., an organization based on high religious, moral, and scholastic standards. Only those outstanding men who perform meritorious service beyond the call of duty are selected for this honor.

The B.B.B. is said to be the oldest and most select organization on Drury campus. Among its functions are the carrying on of certain Drury traditions and keeping up student morale. All members are bound by ties of secrecy and everlasting brotherhood. The superb character and virtues of these men will forever keep the B.B.B. honor untarnished and its lofty ideals perpetuated.

FAIRBANKS HALL

PAN-HELLENIC COUNCIL

The Drury Pan-Hellenic Council is composed of representatives from the four sororities on the campus. Its aim is to maintain a "Good Neighbor" policy among the four groups. The Council forms the general policies to be observed by all of the sororities in regard to rushing, house rules, and other related problems.

The members of the Pan-Hellenic council give a tea in the spring for the high school seniors, and another in early fall to open rush season. This year they published a booklet containing all rush rules, and a history of the four sororities at Drury. These books were distributed to rushees.

The Pan-Hel banquet is held annually for all Greek women, and at that time the scholastic cup is presented to the sorority which has maintained the highest scholastic record for the two preceding semesters.

Miss Lichliter acts as sponsor of Pan-Hel, and Mary Richardson is the 1942-43 president. Other members are Mary Betty Smith, Joan Moore, Jean Slaymaker, Virginia Nelle Kinloch, Donnellia Thompson, Helen Cain, and Charlene Baggett.

INDEPENDENTS

Early this year the Barn Independents and the Town Independents merged into one organization known as the I. M. O. Later the I. M. O. incorporated with the Independent Women to form the N.I.S.A. (National Independent Students Association).

This is the first year on the Drury Campus in which both the women and the men have been combined into one strong organization. They now have, however, their own athletic teams, social functions, pins, and officers.

The all inclusive purpose of the N.I.S.A. is to aid in the full development and adjustment of the independent students and also to act as a constructive force in developing the aims and ideals of the educational institution of which it is a part.

Its scopes and aims are: To study the personality needs of the independent students; to encourage participation in the established activity program and to provide a supplementary program if the existing activities are inadequate; to be alert to problems of student welfare and to take the initiative in alleviating any adverse conditions; to encourage, train, and reward socially responsible leaders; to promote tolerance between all groups, races, and creeds; and to create a feeling of esprit de corps among-unorganized students.

There has long been a need of a solidified organization among the independent students, and now that one has been reached, it is indeed with a great deal of hope for the future that N.I.S.A. looks forward to some very successful seasons, both in athletics and academics.

Beta Pi Mu, an honorary Mathematics Society, was organized on Drury Campus during the spring of 1940. The purpose of this society is to provide for the further development of an interest in mathematics, for the study of applications of mathematical principles to the various fields of scientific knowledge, and for the recognition of outstanding work done by students of Drury in this field.

The membership of the organization is limited to active participants. Candidates for membership must have completed six hours of college mathematics, be enrolled in one of the more advanced courses of the department, and meet such scholastic requirements as are indicated in the constitution.

Prospective members are invited to a social meeting at the opening of the school year. Following the initiation program, the club holds monthly meetings for discussions and demonstrations of mathematical topics by members or guest speakers. Keen interest is shown in practical applications of the slide rule, telescopic study of the stars, experimentation with magic squares, and mathematical recreations.

Chi chapter of Beta Beta Beta, honorary biological fraternity, was founded in 1929. Members are biology majors with high scholastic records. The threefold purpose of the organization is "to stimulate sound scholarship, to promote the dissemination of scientific truth, and to encourage biological investigation". These purposes were carried out this year by the Drury chapter in its bi-monthly programs of lectures and individual student reports. The Beta Beta Beta project of tagging the Drury trees as a tribute to Dr. J. E. Cribbs, former sponsor, who landscaped the campus and catalogued the trees, was begun this year.

Dr. W. D. Burbanck, biology professor, is now sponsor of the group.

NAVY CLUB

The Navy Club was organized in November of this school year with the assistance of Chief Signalman C. C. Sanders of the Springfield Naval Recruiting Station.

Many of the men who were enlisted in the Navy V programs thought that the learning of certain material would aid them in subsequent training when they went on active duty. The purpose of the Navy Club was to enable navy men to acquire this information while they were still in college. Such information as naval history, customs, traditions, rules and regulations were taken up by the group.

Membership requirements were that the person be an enlistee in the United States Naval Reserve or the United States Marine Corps Reserve.

CIVILIAN PILOTS TRAINING

Dr. Fryer

The Civilian Pilot Training program on Drury campus took on a different aspect from that of last year. McCullough Cottage was taken over by the flyers, and green uniforms appeared later in the year. These aviators are regularly enlisted men of the United States Army and the United States Navy, having enlisted as cadets in the air corps of their respective branches.

The primary course is taken at another location. Drury maintained these courses: secondary, cross-country, secondary instructor, and liaison. Cadets work up to instructors, transport and ferry pilots, and pilots of target-towing airplanes. The liaison course was strictly an army program. At the completion of this course the cadet would become attached to field artillery units or observation units.

Classes were held in Pearson's Hall. Dr. Oscar Fryer, head of the Physics Department, was Coordinator, War Training Service of the Civil Aeronautics Administration. Mrs. A. A. Rockwell was secretary to Dr. Fryer.

PI BETA PHI

Pi Beta Phi was founded at Monmouth College, April 28th, 1837. It was the first organization of college women established as a national college fraternity. The Drury chapter was founded January 9th, 1914. Its forerunner on the campus was Mu Beta. The colors are wine and silver blue and the flower is the wine carnation.

The chapter as a whole has turned its attention to the war effort this year, but Pi Beta Phi is still represented in campus activities. Pi Beta Phi initiated seventeen pledges on February 27th, which is one of the largest groups in the history of this chapter.

The basketball plaque was awarded to the members of the chapter this year as the champions of the sorority teams.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

Delta Delta Delta was founded at Boston University on Thanksgiving Eve, 1888, as a National Fraternity. There are now 91 chapters in the United States and Canada. Delta Kappa of Delta Delta Delta, the local chapter, was founded November 18, 1913.

Outstanding activities this year were the Founders Day Banquet given by alumnae for the chapter, Jinx party given for the pledges, the faculty reception and "Pine Party" at Christmas, their participation in Red Cross activities, and a benefit bridge given in March for China Relief. Also a Shipwreck party was given in February by the pledges to honor the actives just before initiation. Tri Delta was fortunate in having some very outstanding members in the chapter. These included editor of the Drury Mirror, president of Wallace Hall, president of Pan-Hellenic, vice president of the student body and captain of the cavalry unit of Springfield.

KAPPA DELTA

Kappa Delta was founded at the Virginia State Normal, Farmville, Virginia, in 1897. Since the date of the first charter the fraternity has expanded until now there are sixty-nine chapters in the United States and Canada.

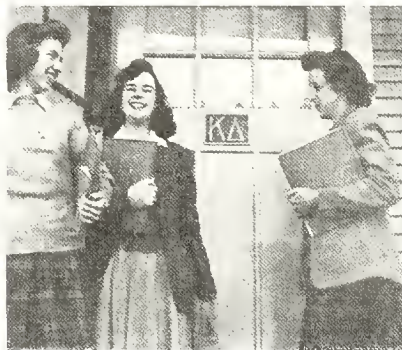

Alpha Psi Chapter was established at Drury in May, 1931, and is the youngest sorority on the campus.

Outstanding in Kappa Delta's activities this year was the visit of the fraternity's national president, Mrs. Walter E. Militzer, on the thirtieth of October. Alpha Phi chapter held a formal reception and banquet in honor of her visit.

In co-operation with the national defense program, Kappa Delta voted to forego her annual formal dance and buy a hundred dollar war bond instead.

Kappa Delta is striving for 100% co-operation with the war effort. Each pledge and active is in one or more Red Cross activity and has pledged to buy and furnish a Red Cross Comfort Kit.

The first informal party of Kappa Delta this year was a "Kid" party held at the chapter house, and this was followed by several other informal social events.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

Zeta Tau Alpha was founded at Virginia State Normal School, Farmville, Virginia, October 11, 1898. The ZTA colors are turquoise blue and steel gray.

MU chapter, the first chapter of a national women's fraternity to organize on Drury campus, was founded in 1909.

The present Drury Zetas are established in a cute and newly redecorated apartment at 1125 Benton.

KAPPA ALPHA

The Beta Iota Chapter of the Kappa Alpha Order was founded on Drury's Campus in 1907. It was the first national fraternity to come to this campus.

Washington and Lee University was the birth place of the Kappa Alpha Order and it was founded by four young students who had fought in the Confederate army under Robert E. Lee. The four young founders looked for inspiration to Lee, who was at the time president of the college, and thus the principles of courtesy and chivalry that guided Lee throughout life were the pillars for this new fraternity which was to be born. The first chapter of Kappa Alpha was founded on December 21, 1865.

Professor Walton D. Clarke, head of the speech department at Drury, is the faculty advisor of the local chapter.

This year has found the members of the Beta Iota Chapter war conscious. The number of social activities has been cut, and those parties that have been given have contributed to certain war needs. Early the first semester a private party was presented by the social committee and admittance to the social was twenty-five pounds of scrap metal. This metal was later turned over to the scrap drive that the city held.

SIGMA nu

Sigma Nu Fraternity was founded at the Virginia Military Institute, Lexington, Virginia, in 1869. The purpose of the founders was to establish through the friendship of a group of congenial college men, ideals of intellectual achievement, character, and social development, all to the end of becoming better men and citizens.

Sigma Nu now has 97 active chapters located throughout 48 states of the union. It now has 41,000 members who wear the White Star.

Epsilon Beta chapter was installed at Drury College in 1919. The chapter now has 21 active members and 18 pledges. The chapter house is located directly across from Burnham Hall at 955 Benton Avenue.

Sigma Nu at Drury is justly proud of its accomplishments during the past year. The versatility of its members is attested by the fact that Sigma Nu has won both the football and basketball trophies in intramural participation in 1942. Prospects seem equally bright for 1943. Sigma Nu has its share of men on all varsity teams.

During the last college year the scholastic average of Epsilon Beta was well above that of any other group of college men on the campus. It is well represented in the Seven Sages, honorary scholastic organization for men. Sigma Nus will be found participating in all worthwhile groups on the campus.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

Well represented in all student activities, Lambda Chi Alpha continues to hold a place of prominence on Drury campus. Its members have distinguished themselves as leaders scholastically, as well as in the fields of music, dramatics, student politics, journalism, forensics, athletics, and student ministry. In all their undertakings, Lambda Chi men endeavor to live up to their open motto, "Every Man a Man."

Lambda Chi Alpha has had a chapter on Drury campus since its merger with Theta Kappa Nu in 1939. It is the largest fraternity represented on the campus, as well as being the only inter-national fraternity. Lambda Chi men are proud of this great heritage of strength.

Drury's Lambda Chi chapter has been extremely busy during the past year. Under the leadership of president Jim Brown, the men have organized an Alumni Advisory Board, composed of local alumni, to assist the chapter in problems arising from the war. An alumni association also has been formed, including all the chapter's alumni from the Springfield vicinity. A chapter publication, the "Theta Signature", was inaugurated as a means of contacting out-of-town alumni. The alumni support and cooperation arising from these moves insures the preservation of Lambda Chi ideals and standards throughout the war period.

An active social program, including numerous informal parties and dinners culminated by the annual formal dance, kept Lambda Chi on the social calendar. In addition to the many planned affairs, the chapter held informal open-house each weekend following gasoline rationing. The fact that the house was always open to visitors stimulated the feeling that "you're always welcome at the Lambda Chi house", and served to perpetuate the time-honored tradition of Lambda Chi Alpha hospitality.

Mr. H. J. Bender, head of the geology and geography departments at the college, was initiated into the fraternity during the past year and serves as Lambda Chi's faculty advisor.

RELATIONSHIP OF THE COLLEGE TO THE FRATERNITIES AND SORORITIES

Drury College recognizes the fraternity and the sorority as a distinctive part of American college life and will co-operate fully with chapter and national officers in the attainment of the ideals and objectives for which fraternities and sororities exist.

But the College also recognizes that the local chapter of any fraternity and sorority has its origin and maintains itself by virtue of the fact that its members are regularly enrolled undergraduates of Drury College, that the local chapter is therefore an integral part of the student body. The College consequently expects the chapter to conduct its corporate and social life in a manner consistent with the standards expected of all Drury students.

The "big gun" of the Drury program to "keep fit for our country" is Coach A. L. Weiser.

Upon his shoulders lies the brunt of the responsibility of keeping the Drury sports machine well oiled and in fighting trim.

Despite war and rationing problems, "Coach" has replaced seasoned veterans lost to the service by capable recruits on his teams.

Coach Weiser treats everyone with the same consideration and is always ready to help the individual with his problems. He is willing to cooperate in every way he can for the betterment of not only Drury sports, but also Drury itself.

Coach plays the game of life in the same manner in which he teaches others to play sports. He plays the game of life clean and according to the rules.

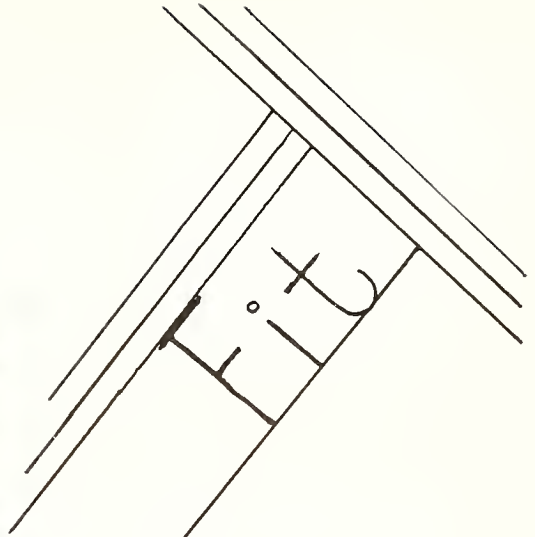

Here's to Drury's grand man of sports!

WOMEN'S PROGRAM

In Drury the girls have had an unusually active physical educational program. This may be largely credited to Mrs. Yates, popular women's phy. ed. director. She, like Mr. Weiser, is interested in putting over an effective athletic program.

The girls in Drury will be physically fit if they should be called upon to take over the work of men.

MEN'S PROGRAM

Both boys' and girls' physical educational programs are geared to meet wartime demands. The boys work out doubly hard and will for the duration.

The men boast, or at least do a lot of talking, of the new obstacle course. This is one of the type which war-minded colleges all over America have installed to help further the idea of keeping fit.

Keeping

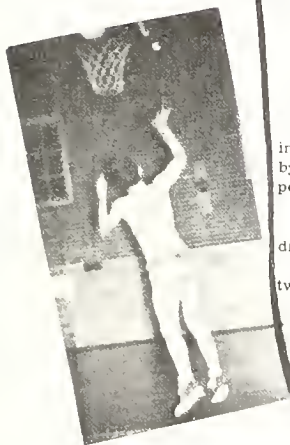

INTRAMURALS

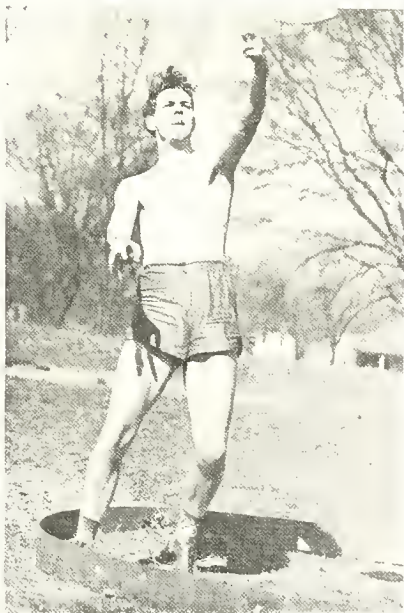

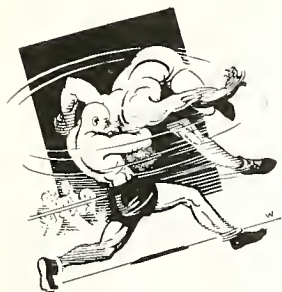

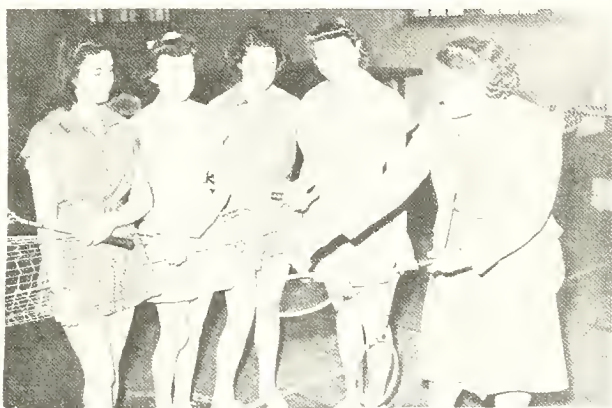

The outstanding feature of Drury's athletic activities is the active intramural program. All of the popular sports are participated in by the different organizations upon the campus in organized competition.

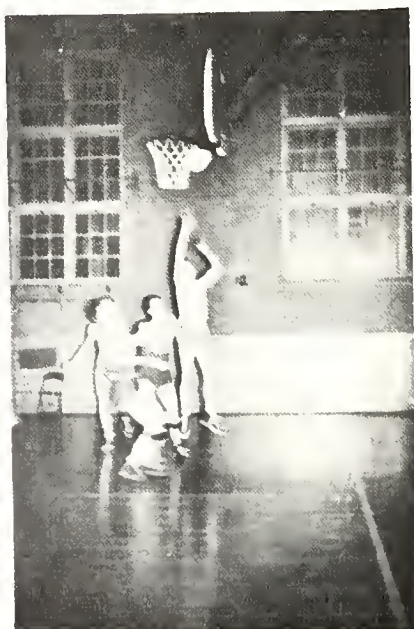

Both men and women have their own contest brackets.

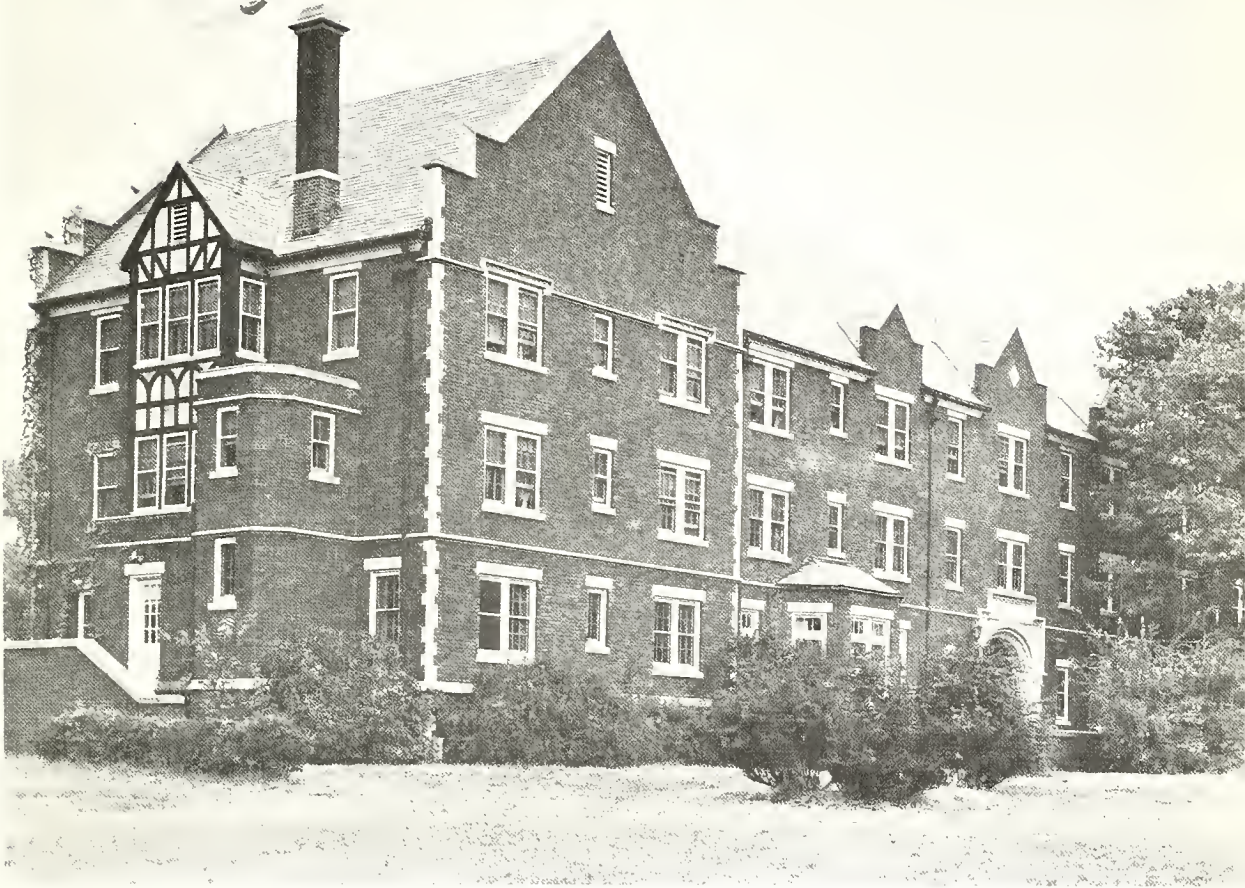

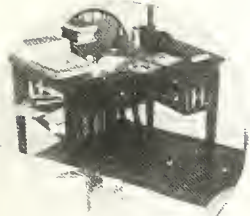

Whatever the season, it is always possible to see the enthusiasm displayed by students for the various games to be played.

This interest in the intramurals is kept alive by the rivalry between the different associations around the "40 Acres".

"EFFECTIVE PRINTING PLANNED AND PRODUCED"

In these days of war . . . when you are wisely urged to save everything from aluminum pots and pans to empty tooth paste tubes . . . do not forget to purchase printing that pays.

Don't waste money experimenting with printed messages that carry their story on the wrong kind of paper, in the wrong style of type, with little thought given to actual results.
